

Notifications

General settings for messages in the Bitrix24 Notification Center: disabled/at user discretion/enabled. Disabled - position on the left, at user discretion - position in the middle, enabled - position on the right.

The mechanism of operation is as follows. When it is necessary to send a notification, the application first checks the general notification settings (in this section). They have priority. If Disabled is selected, then notifications will not be sent. If Enabled is selected, then notifications will be sent. If At user discretion is selected, then what is selected in the personal settings of each user will be executed. Personal notification settings are made by each employee in their personal account in the Feed section.

Blue - for all employees, red - only for moderators.
