

Rating and points

The general scheme of work is presented in the section "Gamification. General mechanism".

Points are an element of gamification implemented to engage employees.

The screenshot displays the 'SCORE' configuration page. At the top, a navigation bar includes 'MODERATORS', 'CATALOG SECTION', 'SCORE' (highlighted with a red box), 'RATING', and 'CERTIFICATES'. Below the navigation bar, the 'Score' section is titled 'Specify how many points the trainee will receive for performing a particular action'. It contains five settings: 'Completed Lesson' with a value of 98, 'For Tests' with a value of 10, 'Completed Final Test' with a value of 20, 'Completed Course' with a toggle switch, and 'Completed Program' with a toggle switch.

When you activate "Completed course", the following settings appear.

- Points calculation method. There are two options:
 - Summing up points for modules. That is, the total score for the course will be equal to the sum of points for all lessons and tests in the course.
 - Manual entry. Points are entered manually when creating a course. Regardless of the number of points for each course and test within the course, the manually entered number of points will be awarded for the completed course.
- Accounting points for modules:
 - Do not accrue points. Only points for the course will be included in the calculation, and points will not be awarded for modules within the course.
 - Account points. Points will be awarded for both the course and for each module within the course.
 - Points - how many points will be awarded for the completed course.

Similar settings will be when activating "Completed program".
